BURNED TO DEATH

Miss Melinda Cheap Dies From Accident.

Lived Near Mayfield and Caught Fire From the Grate This Morning at 8 O'clock.

SHE HAD RELATIVES HERE

Miss Melinda Cheap, sometimes known as Lucinda Walker, age 90, met a horrible death this morning about 8 o'clock while standing before the fire at her home near Mayfield, Ky.

She had gotten up from her bed, donned a loose fitting house gown and was standing directly in front of the fire, which was burning briskly in the grate.

Her dress was in some way ignited and before assistance could be secured the unfortunate woman was completely enveloped in flames. She fell to the floor writhing in agony and died before physicians could be secured to render medical aid.

She lived with a widow named Walker near Mayfield and has a niece, Mrs. Estelle Green, of South 10th street, Paducah, who was this morning apprised of her aunt's death. Mrs. Green will go to Mayfield this afternoon late to attend the funeral.

DELIGHTED MAN

Mr. Lewis Morrison Speaks Very Highly of Paducah.

It is His First Visit for Five Years—and His Last.

Mr. Lewis Morrison, the veteran actor, arrived in Paducah this morning on his special car, which left 11th and Broadway. He is quite an old man now, with long grey hair, but amiable and reminiscent, and it is his first visit to Paducah in four or five years. He always travels on his private car and never goes to hotels.

A Sun reporter met Mr. Morrison this morning and found him a most delightful man. Despite his almost white hair and partial deafness, his full, deep, musical voice readily impresses those who hear him. He is not entirely deaf and has been playing "Faust" so long that he needs no cues. He can exactly tell when to speak from the time that elapses and from the movements of the lips of other players.

"It has been several years, four or five," said Mr. Morrison this morning, "since I was in Paducah. I find it has grown very much, and has one of the prettiest theaters in the country. I'll never forget the first time I ever came to Paducah, and how it happened. I was in Cairo and had never been to Paducah. I got a wire to play there, and happened to be in the bank of my old friend, now dead—Captain Halliday. 'What sort of a town is Paducah,' I asked. 'A d—d good town,' he said. I decided to go there on the strength of what he said, and came. I was greeted by a packed house. I came again and again, and then stopped for a while—you know I can't go everywhere. I am now back for the last time."

Mr. Morrison has been playing "Faust" for twenty years or more, and this afternoon a large matinee performance is greeting him. Tonight the indications are for a large house.

Mr. Morrison said in regard to "Faust." "There is a great deal of humor in 'Faust.' In fact it is chuck full of it. One of the most humorous lines is where the devil takes hold of 'Martha's hand and says: 'Goodbye. We shall meet again.' Sometimes they do not see this at once, but soon the ripple starts and increases until it is a veritable roar."

—The new iron bridge shipped from Nashville to Paducah for the new Clark's river bridge over Belan fork has not arrived, but Supervisor Johnson expects it at any time.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

Clearings this week $699,787
Same week last year $806,304
Decrease $106,517

The bank clearings for the week show a decrease from the same week last year, but reference to the records show heavy tobacco sales in this week of 1903 which would account for the discrepancy. Tobacco has been slow to move this year and there is a good deal of money tied up in it.

General wholesale trade is good with all Paducah houses. The holiday trade has stimulated everything and satisfactory reports are coming in from all sources. While not showing an abnormal increase over other years 1903 is coming up to expectations.

Business over the country is reported as better. There are reports every day of reductions in wages but these follow as a natural result from the reaction in many lines of trade. The satisfactory measure of it is that labor is accepting the reductions gracefully as something to be expected.

Retail trade with local merchants is good. Some houses report as high as 30 per cent increases over last year, and all report some increase. Holiday business has started and the volume gives promise of surpassing any past year.

The Sutherland Medicine company stockholders will hold a meeting Monday to vote on doubling the capital stock of that company.

J. K. Bondurant & Son, one of the oldest wholesale grocery firms in Paducah has joined up to Givens, Clark & Co., the new grocery firm but recently organized. The consideration was private.

The new firm is capitalized at $50,000 and will commence business on the fifteenth of the month. The stockholders are T. C. Givens of Sturgis, Will Clark, of Paducah, C. E. Renfro, of Paducah and John Brothers, of Metropolis.

who represent these seven creditors declare that additional claims amounting to close to $100,000 will be united in the contest against the bankruptcy proceedings.

Simultaneously with the filing of these objections attorneys representing the $1,000 claim of Samuel Stevenson, Dowie's brother-in-law, announced that they would appear in the federal court tomorrow morning to ask that the original petitioners be required to give an indemnifying bond in the sum of $200,000.

Mayfield, Ky., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Ed Yarbrough, a young wife of one week, shot herself at her home near Sedalia, this county, this afternoon with a 22 calibre pistol. The ball entered her left breast, but did not kill her, when she called for a razor to complete the work. She was a Miss Dodd and belonged to one of the best families. She gave no cause for the rash act.

Washington, Dec. 5.—General Reyes, Colombia's envoy, is apparently resigned to the inevitable—that his country can never regain Panama. His presentation to President Roosevelt today, as an envoy on a special mission, is expected to pave the way for peace negotiations between Panama and Colombia.

PANAMA LOST TO COLOMBIA

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Stronger proof of the fact that all John Alexander Dowie's creditors are not as a unit in the desire to have his estate administered by the bankruptcy court has been given. Seven creditors, representing claims of more than $10,000, filed an answer in the United States district court, in which they asked Judge Kohlman to inquire into the question of Dowie's insolvency at once. They denied that the head of Zion City is insolvent, or that he was in that condition when the bankruptcy proceedings were begun against him. The lawyers

ALL SEEM TO FAVOR IT

Chief Wood Says More Men and Stations are Needed.

Two Small Stations Preferable to One Larger One on the North Side.

WEST END NEEDS PROTECTION

Fire Chief James Woods is pleased with the prospects and recommendation for an increase to the local fire department, and stated this morning that he hoped the council and board of aldermen would act favorably on the request made by the board of underwriters for Kentucky and Tennessee.

"I have recommended to the council for the past year an additional fire department in the north end of the city, and think it would be a very wise move to place one there. We ought to have a department in the West End, these two to be small ones, of course, but the addition of several men to the Central station is the wisest move that could be made. We need all the men we can get to protect the business portion of the city and especially do we need extra men to handle the trucks. This has been a necessity long overlooked."

Chief Woods stated that the city of course could economize greatly in installing the stations, if such an action is taken, by putting in the least possible number of men at the new stations. Chief Woods thinks four would be the sufficient and thinks if the city intends to put in one department of more than half a dozen men in the north end, such as was recommended by the board of underwriters, that a division could be made and two departments secured, one for the north and one for the west end of the city.

Colonel W. C. Nelson, the secretary of the board of underwriters, will leave the recommendations the board desires to make, with Mr. C. C. Rose, the insurance man, who will present them regularly to the council. This will be done Monday night.

Mayor Yeiser, who has expressed himself as favoring whatever is expedient and advisable, thinks that the proposed improvements and additions will cost $10,000 a year than at present.

BURNED $250

Unusual Case Reported From Maxon's Mills Today.

Young Man Retained Check and Burned $250 in Bills.

Jim Crow, a young man employed on the farm of George Honston, near Maxon's Mills, this county, is $250 poorer than he was three days ago. He regrets his misfortune very much, but there is no way to remedy it.

It seems that Crow formerly lived in Johnson county, Ill., and some time ago came into a small amount of money through the death of a relative. Last Wednesday he received a registered letter containing $265.

$250 of it was in currency, and the remainder in a $15 check, which was enclosed in the letter. In opening the envelope he took out the letter and check and threw what he supposed was only the envelope in the fire. The envelope and the $250 were burned before he read the letter and ascertained that the check was for only $15, the remainder of the money being in bills. As there is no way he can recover the money, it is a total loss to him.

LOAD OF "GOOBERS"

City of Memphis Had a Record Breaking Load.

She Carried 8108 Sacks, Most of Them Consigned to the St. Louis Market.

GOOD YEAR FOR PEANUTS

The biggest cargo of peanuts that ever passed Paducah in one shipment was carried by the steamer City of Memphis, of the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet company, which passed out of Tennessee river Thursday. It consists of 8108 bags of five bushels each, or 40,540 bushels in all. The cargo consists almost wholly of peanuts, the boat being "blocked off" with the "goobers" and unable to accommodate other freight. The nuts are, however, regarded by the shippers as light freight, it being impossible to load a boat down with them. They are also regarded as "good freight," being more readily handled than some of the other commodities from the southern country.

The peanut supply in the market is not limited to this cargo, as 8,000 sacks were carried by one of the boats last week and other lots still remain to be shipped from the Tennessee peanut belt.

The large shipments at present do not indicate that the peanut crop is better than usual, as it is said the crop is only an average one, but the shipments are coming closer together than they commonly do. Nor does a plentiful supply indicate that prices will be cut, as the price is regulated by the trust, and the buyer at retail will continue to pay his nickel for a small quantity in a paper bag.

The peanut belt lies on both sides of the Tennessee, above the mouth of Duck river, which empties into the Tennessee 167 miles above Paducah, and extends up the Tennessee only 50 miles. The larger shipping points for peanuts are Sycamore, Cuba, Brevard's, Britt's and Blount's. Smaller quantities are shipped from some of the other landings.

Of the cargo the Memphis carried 5181 bags are consigned to the St. Louis edible nut company and 2927 bags to the Barnhart company.

BOY'S SACRIFICE

Will Probably Have to go to the Penitentiary.

In Order to Save a Man He Swore Was not His Father.

Frank Kelley was this morning acquitted of false swearing in police court before Attorney J. C. Flournoy as special judge. His alleged son, Ed Kelley was instead held for perjury. Kelley was one of several suspects arrested several days ago for shoplifting. He swore that the boy was his son, and when the boy was taken aside by Judge Saunders, County Attorney Graves and others, and "sweated," he said that Kelley was not his father, and that his real name was Ed. Harris, of Yorktown, Pa.

This morning at the trial of his supposed father the boy swore when introduced as a witness against the man, that he swore no such thing, and that he was Kelley's son. The father was dismissed, and the boy was held and will doubtless be sent to the penitentiary to serve the three months sentence in the lockup for stealing.

The case against the son for false swearing was heard by Special Judge Flournoy and left open.

SOCIAL LULL.

A number of club parties have been given the past week, but only one large faction, the debut party of Miss Helen Decker on Wednesday afternoon. The next week will have little on hand on account of Christmas preparations and from now until the holidays there will be a lull in social activity.

DEBUT PARTY.

The leading social event of the week was the reception given by Mrs. Albert Jackson Decker at her home, 123 North Seventh street, Wednesday afternoon, introducing her daughter, Miss Helen Decker, to society. The hours were from 4 to 6 and many callers came during that time.

The house was decorated in cut flowers and potted plants. The dining room was especially pretty in a color scheme of white and pink. The tea table had a center piece of white chrysanthemums in a tall vase and pink carnations were thrown carelessly about the table.

Capt. James Caldwell Gets New Orders From Frankfort

They Are Not As Satisfactory as the First, However, and the Boys Are Displeased.

WANT TO GO ON FAST TRAIN

Captain James Caldwell, of company I, Third regiment, today received from Adjutant General Murray additional orders relative to the movement of the local company when it leaves to attend the inauguration. The new orders provide for the departure of the company on train No. 132, at 7:45 a. m. December 7, instead of at 1:48 on the morning of December 8.

These orders do not suit the members of the company as well as the first orders did, as the only objection to the first orders was that it was likely, in case of delay to the train, to result in the local company getting into Frankfort late.

The new orders will require the boys to leave at 7:45 on the morning before the inauguration, and remain on the accommodation train until they reach Louisville at 4 p. m. and spend the night in Frankfort, taking a special train out of Louisville.

Captain Caldwell and the boys object to going on the slow train and Captain Caldwell has telegraphed to Frankfort to ascertain if the company cannot instead leave Paducah at 11:40 a. m. on the fast train, as they could catch the special at Louisville just as easy. It is supposed that the railroad prefers taking the companies that go over the Illinois Central, four in number, on the accommodation train, as the special cars would interfere with the fast train's making its time. It is not known what will be done about it, but the boys hope to get authority to leave on one of the fast trains.

DAILY THOUGHT.

Nothing is eternal but that which is done for God and others. That which is done for self dies. Perhaps it is not wrong, but it perishes. That which ends in self is mortal; that alone which goes out of self into God lasts forever.—F. W. Robertson.

THE WEATHER.

MAKING STREET

IMPROVEMENTS.

It has been claimed by some that the street improvements to be made in Paducah cannot be finished next year. It is stated on good authority however that it can be finished if the city is disposed to have the work done in a business like way.

The report of the city engineer of Owensboro for the past four years shows that ten miles of streets have been improved during that time, several miles of sewerage constructed, and the grade line of forty-four miles of streets has been established, although the work has not been continuous.

Paducah will have within her reach the necessary funds as soon as the bond issue is complete, and as the improvements are needed they cannot be made too soon. The city can no doubt have every block of street paved during the coming year if the new bonds desire and require it. There is no reason it should be delayed or permitted to be extended over months and months of valuable time. As soon as the bonds are issued the city will begin paying interest on the money, and the people should get the benefit of it as soon as possible.

PREVENTING TYPHOID.

The plight of Butler, Pa., which is in the midst of a typhoid scourge, calls the attention of city authorities everywhere to sanitation. By the proper precautions every town and city can prevent an epidemic of typhoid. By negligence and bad sanitation every city runs the risk of undergoing the terrible experience of the Pennsylvania city, where there are 1500 cases of typhoid. The state board of health of Indiana has just sent out a warning to all cities and towns.

To make the warning vivid the circular that the board is sending out contains a picture of a dwelling on which a typhoid sign is tacked. A well near the house is shown, into which polluted drainage is flowing from infected sources. The board considers typhoid a fifth disease, pure and simple one which might easily be eradicated

Tutt's Pills

ANTI-BILIOUS MEDICINE.

In malarial districts their virtues are widely recognized, as they possess peculiar properties in freeing the system from that poison. Elegantly sugar coated.

Take No Substitute.

If the proper measures were taken.

It is estimated that the desired increase and improvements in the fire department will cost the city $10,000 a year extra. This can easily be obtained without extra expense to the taxpayers, by cutting the street appropriation in half. With forty or fifty blocks of streets in the section used most, to be paved, it would be foolish to spend any money on the streets in question next year, and with these eliminated at least half of the street appropriation ought to be saved.

The Democrats in the house kicked because the Republican speaker used to make his committee assignments to suit himself, and now that Speaker Cannon has allowed the Democratic minority leader to make the Democratic assignments, the Democrats are kicking worse than ever. They probably realize that the Republicans always do things better than the Democrats, anyway, and see that the old way was best. An object lesson is always convincing.

Our neighbor, Owensboro, is not so much. Mr. Carnegie, after perusing a statement of its population, wealth, etc., declined to give it but $30,000 for a public library. He gave us $35,000 and would have given more had we wanted it.

Now that Mr. Bryan has amassed a fortune and been eliminated as a presidential possibility he has apparently from his antics in Europe ceased to be one of "the plain, common people."

Mr. Armour, who made $210,000 in one day in wheat, has aroused the rural press. How many of the good brothers wouldn't willingly do the same thing—if they could?

If Japan and Russia had decided to fight, probably we should not have had to re-open the Dreyfus case to get something to talk about.

Why not transfer some of the police to the fire department and give them a chance to earn their salary?

The gutters in Paducah received their annual flushing a night or two ago.

WITNESS AGAINST JETT AND WHITE RETURNS TO HIS HOME.

Jackson, Ky., Dec. 5.—Capt. B. J. Ewen, principal witness against White and Jett in Breathitt county assassination cases, is boldly walking the streets of Jackson. His appearance on the streets immediately after all the soldiers have been recalled has occasioned surprise. He was always guarded by a large body of soldiers when here and on innumerable occasions expressed the belief that he would be assassinated if he ever returned to Jackson.

MANY JUGS READY

Shipment of Christmas Whiskey to Break the Record.

Thousands of Jugs Will Be Shipped Up Tennessee and to Local Option Towns.

BIG "JUG TRIP" ON DEC. 19

The annual shipment of whiskey up Tennessee river for the natives of the towns and cities along the river will take place on Saturday, December 19 this year, and already extensive local preparations are being made for it.

Last year the shipment was on the 20th, and there were in the consignment fully 10,000 jugs, representing liquor valued at many thousand dollars.

This year the Tennessee, which will carry up the product that has made Kentucky famous, will probably have much more than last year, as the business increased every year, and there are already indications that it will this time exceed that of any previous year.

The wholesale whiskey houses of Paducah have been busy for some time now filling and sealing countless jugs and bottles which will be shipped on the Tennessee river boat and put off at every landing between Paducah and Waterloo, Ala. Many men, old and young, are even now doubtless anticipating the arrival of the "jug boat" with its precious cargo, and when it comes it will be a signal for them to begin their annual Christmas celebration.

About this time of the year there is also a tremendous outflow of jugs, bottles and even barrels, to the local option towns around Paducah. There are scores of these towns that have "voted whiskey out," but where more whiskey is in reality sold and sent from Paducah than to towns of the same size and population in which there are saloons.

The whiskey business is now on a great boom, and the potteries are also enjoying the rush, for they furnish the jugs in which the juice is shipped to the waiting and willing hands in the small places up the river and up and down the railroads. This year fully 15,000 jugs will leave Paducah by river and rail to help our neighbors enjoy the holidays.

"FOR ALL

CATARRHAL COMPLAINTS

Pe-ru-na is Most Excellent," Writes Congressman John L. Sheppard.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN L. SHEPPARD.

Congressman John L. Sheppard, Member of Congress from Texas, writes: "Gentlemen:—I have used Peruna in my family and find it a most excellent remedy for all catarrhal complaints."—Congressman John L. Sheppard.

THERE are two things that the whole medical profession agree about concerning catarrh. The first is that catarrh is the most prevalent and omnipresent disease to which the people in the United States are subject. All classes of people have it. Those who stay in doors much and those who go outdoors much. Working classes have it and sedentary classes have it.

The doctor finds catarrh to be his constant and ever-present foe. It complicates nearly every disease he is called upon to treat.

The second thing about catarrh on which all doctors agree, is that it is difficult to cure it. Local remedies may give relief but they fail to cure permanently. Sprays or snuffs amount to little or nothing except to give temporary relief.

Catarrh is frequently located in internal organs which cannot be reached by any sort of local treatment. All this is known by every physician.

To devise some systemic internal remedy which would reach catarrh at its source, to eradicate it permanently from the system—this has been the desire of the medical profession for a long time. Forty years ago Dr. Hartman confronted this problem. He believed then that he had solved it. He still believes he has solved it. He cures thousands of people annually. During all these years Peruna has been the remedy upon which he has relied.

It was at first a private prescription, afterwards manufactured expressly for him in large quantities. This remedy, Peruna, is now to be found in every drug store and nearly every home in the land. It is the only reliable internal remedy ever devised to cure any case of catarrh, however long the case may have been standing.

A Case of Nasal Catarrh of Five Years' Standing Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Hon. Rudolph M. Patterson, a well-known lawyer, of Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have been a sufferer from nasal catarrh for the past five years and at the earnest solicitation of a friend I tried Peruna and am glad to say it has afforded a complete cure. It is with pleasure I recommend it to others."—Rudolph M. Patterson.

A course of Peruna never fails to bring relief. There is no other remedy like Peruna. Its cures are prompt and permanent.

Mr. Camillus Senne, 237 West 129th street, New York, writes:

"I have fully recovered from my catarrhal troubles. I suffered for three years with catarrh of the head, nose and throat. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief, but at last I have been cured by the wonderful remedy called Peruna.

Mr. Camillus Senne.

"I read of Peruna in your almanac, and wrote you for advice, which I followed. After taking one and one-half bottles of Peruna I am entirely cured, and can recommend Peruna to anyone as the best and surest remedy for any catarrhal troubles."—Camillus Senne.

Hearing Lost by Catarrh—Restored by Peruna.

Mr. William Bauer, Barton, Texas, a Gliner and Miller, writes:

"Some years ago I lost the hearing in my left ear, and upon examination by a specialist, catarrh was decided to be the cause. I took a course of treatment and regained my hearing for a time but I soon lost it completely. I commenced to take Peruna according to directions and have taken eight bottles in all, and my hearing is completely restored, and I shall sing the praises of Peruna whenever an opportunity occurs."—Wm. Bauer.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

ABOUT FEAR

OFTEN COMES FROM LACK OF RIGHT FOOD.

Napoleon said that the best fed soldiers were his best soldiers, for fear and nervousness come quickly when the stomach is not nourished. Nervous fear is a sure sign that the body is not supplied with the right food.
A Connecticut lady says: "For many years I had been a sufferer from indigestion and heart trouble and in almost constant fear of sudden death, the most acute suffering possible. Dieting brought on weakness, emaciation and nervous exhaustion, and I was a complete wreck physically and almost a wreck mentally.
"I tried many foods but could not avoid the terrible nausea followed by vomiting that came after eating until I tried Grape Nuts. This food agreed with my palate and stomach from the start. This was about a year ago. Steadily and surely a change from sickness to health came until now I have no symptoms of dyspepsia and can walk ten miles a day without being greatly fatigued. I have not taken a drop of medicine since I began the use of Grape Nuts and people say I look many years younger than I really am.
"My poor old sick body has been made over and I feel as though my head has been too. Life is worth living now and I expect to enjoy it for many years to come if I can keep away from bad foods and have Grape Nuts."

The action of Nellie Brantly against Harry Brantly was reinstated on the docket.

The injunction in the case of Addie Wallace Bolton against I. B. Green was continued by Judge Husbands this morning. This is the case where the plaintiff who is a partner in the general merchandise business of I. B. The injunction was granted, but this morning no definite action was taken. The plaintiff asks for a receiver also.

Every woman in the country ought to know about

Mother's Friend

Those who do know about it wonder how they ever got along without it. It has robbed childbirth of its terrors for many a young wife. It has preserved her girlish figure and saved her much suffering. It is an external liniment and carries with it therefore, absolutely no danger of upsetting the system as drugs taken internally are apt to do. It is to be rubbed into the abdomen to soften and strengthen the muscles which are to bear the strain. This means much less pain. It also prevents morning sickness and all of the other discomforts of pregnancy.

A druggist of Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it."

A prominent lady of Lambert, Ark., writes: "With my first six children I was in labor from 24 to 30 hours. After using Mother's Friend, my seventh was born in 4 hours."

CAUSED DEATH.

His wife sent for a physician, but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901." Hello Central!

Please give me Mr. State's drug store. Is that Mr. State? Please send me a bottle of Lax-Fos immediately.

Substituting Druggist: I am sorry but we sold the last bottle that we had in stock a few minutes ago, though I can send you something just as good.

Customer: No, no, Mr. State, you can sell that to those who have never taken Lax-Fos, but those who have once used Lax-Fos will always insist on the genuine. My father as you know is 81 years old and has been in bad health for ten years. He was badly constipated and suffered from kidney trouble. His appetite was gone and he could not sleep, but after taking six bottles of Lax-Fos he threw away his cane and now walks erect with the elastic step of a boy. My mother was quite feeble and encouraged by the good Lax-Fos did my father she, too, tried it and Lax-Fos has given her the rosy cheeks of her girlhood. My little girl was suddenly taken sick after eating too much very rich food. One dose of Lax-Fos cured her. My little boy could not control his kidneys at night. Two bottles of Lax-Fos has cured him permanently. My husband being a business man has fallen into the habit of eating hurriedly—result indigestion and kindred evils. Lax-Fos is his only reliance.

No, no Mr. State, you may have something that pays you more profit but don't tell me that you have something just as good. Something just as good as Lax-Fos has never been made and if you can't supply me with the genuine, I'll write the S. H. Winstead Medicine Company, Paducah, Ky., who manufacture and sell every bottle on the money back plan.

The SKY PILOT

By RALPH CONNOR

Author of "The Man From Glengarry" "Glengarry School Days" and "Black Rock"

Copyright, 1899, by FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY

"Oh, Bill," went on Gwen, "it was delightful! How did you do it?" But Bill, who had by this time got back to his seat at the door, pretended

"Come here and shake hands!"

Ignorance of any achievement calling for remark. He "hadn't done nothing more out of the way than usual."

"Oh, don't talk nonsense!" cried Gwen impatiently. "Tell me how you got so little to lay you $250."

"Oh, that?" said Bill in great surprise. "That ain't nothing much. Scottie is sick enough."

"But how did you get him?" persisted Gwen. "Tell me, Bill," she added in her most coaxing voice.

"Well," said Bill, "it was like a roller on a log. I made the remark as how the boys generally put up for what they wanted without no fuss, and that if they was not on having a gospel shack I cherished the opinion—here Gwen went off into a smothered shriek which made Bill pause and look at her in alarm."

"Go on," she gasped.

"I cherished the opinion," drawled on Bill, while Gwen stuck her handkerchief into her mouth, "that maybe they'd put up for it the $700, and even as it was, seedin' as the Pilot appeared to be set on to it, if them fellows would find $250 I cher'—another shriek from Gwen cut him suddenly short."

"It's the rheumatism, mebby," said Bill anxiously. "Terrible bad weather for 'em. I get 'em myself."

"No, no," said Gwen, wiping away her tears and substituting her laughter for "Go on, Bill."

"There ain't no more," said Bill. "The bit, and the master here put it down."

"Yes, it's here right enough," I said. "But I don't suppose you mean to tell how it up, do you?"

"You don't, eh? Well, I am not responsible for your supposin', but them that is familiar with houses I'll generally expects him to back up his undertakin'."

"But how in the world can you get $500 from the cowboys for a church?"

"I ain't done the arithmetic yet, but it's safe enough. You see, it ain't the church altogether; it's the reputation of the boys."

"I'll help, Bill," said Gwen.

Bill nodded his head slowly and said, "Proud to have you," trying hard to look enthusiastic.

"You don't think I can," said Gwen. Bill protested against such an imputation. "But I can. I'll get daddy and the Duke too."

"Good bye!" said Bill, slapping his knee.

"And I'll give all my money, too; but it isn't very much," she added sadly.

"Much?" said Bill. "If the rest of the fellows play up to that lead there won't be any trouble about that five hundred."

Gwen was silent for some time, then said with an air of resolve: "I'll give my pinto."

"Nonsense!" I exclaimed, while Bill declared "no war'n't no call."

"Yes, I'll give the pinto," said Gwen decidedly. "I'll not need him any more." Her lips quivered, and Bill coughed and spat into the next room.

"And, besides, I want to give something I like. And Bill will sell him for me."

And so it was arranged that the pinto should be sold and that Bill should have the selling of it.

CHAPTER XVI. BILL'S FINANCING.

Bill's method of conducting the sale of the pinto was eminently successful as a theatrical operation, and there are those in Swan Creek country who have never been able to fathom the mystery attaching to the affair. It was at the fall round up, the beef round up, as it is called, which this year ended at the Ashley ranch. There were representatives from all the ranches and some cattle men from across the line.

The hospitality of the Ashley ranch was up to its own lofty standard, and after supper the men were in a state of high exhilaration. The Hon. Fred and his wife, Lady Charlotte, gave themselves to the duties of their position as hosts for the day with a heartiness and grace beyond praise. After supper the men gathered round the big fire which was piled up before the long, low shed, which stood open in front. It was a scene of such wild and picturesque interest as can only be witnessed in the western ranching country.

Bill, as king of the bronco busters, moved about with the slow, careless indifference of a man sure of his position and sure of his ability to maintain it.

He spoke seldom and slowly, was not readily witted as his partner, Bill Kendall, but in act he was swift and sure, and "in trouble" he could be counted on. He was, as they said, "a white man-white to the back," which was understood to mean up the true cattle man's virtues.

"Hello, Bill!" said a friend. "Where's Bill? I ain't seen him around!"

"Well, don't jest now. He was going to bring up my pinto."

"Your pinto? What pinto's that? You ain't got no pinto."

"Mebbe not," said Bill slowly, "but I had the idee before you spoke that I had."

"That so? What'd ye git him? Good for cattle?"

The crowd began to gather. Bill grew mysterious, and even more than usually reserved.

"Good for cattle? Well, I ain't much on gaublin', but I've got a little in my pants that says that there pinto kin outwork any blanked bronco in this outfit, givin' him a fair show after the cattle."

The men became interested. "What was he raised?"

"Dunno."

"What'd ye git him? Across the line?"

"No," said Bill stoutly, "right in this here country. The Duke there knows him."

This at once raised the pinto several points. To be known, and as Bill's tone indicated, favorably known by the Duke was a testimonial to which any horse might aspire.

"What'd ye git him, Bill? Don't be so blanked oncommunicatin'!" said an impatient voice.

Bill hesitated; then, with an apparent burst of confidence, he assumed his frankest manner and voice and told his tale.

"Well," he said, taking a fresh chew and offering his plug to his neighbor, who passed it on after helping himself, "ye see, it was like this. Ye know that little Meredith gal?"

Chorus of answers: "Yes! The red headed one. I know! She's a daisy! Her 'lar blizzard! Lightnin' conductor!"

Bill paused, stiffened himself a little, dropped his frank air and drawled out in cool, hard tones: "I might remark that that young lady is, I might person to say, a friend of mine, which I'm prepared to back up in my best style, and if my blanked blanked son of a street sweeper has any remark to make, here's his time now."

In the pause that followed murmurs were heard extolling the many excellencies of the young lady in question, and Bill, appressed, yielded to the requests for the continuance of his story, and as he described Gwen and her pinto and her work on the ranch the men, many of whom had had glimpses of her, gave emphatic approval in their own way. But as he told of her rescue of Joe and of the sudden calamity that had befallen her a great stillness fell upon the simple, tender hearted fellows, and they listened with their eyes shining in the firelight with growing interest.

"I'll cover your thirty," said young Bill, intently. Then Bill spoke of the Pilot and how he stood by her and helped her and cheered her till they began to swear he was "all right."

"And now," concluded Bill, "when the Pilot is in a hole she wants to help him out."

"Of course," said one. "Right enough. How's she going to work it?" said another.

"Well, he's dead set on to buildin' a meethin' house, and them fellows down at the Creek that does the prayin' and such don't seem to back him up."

"What's the kick, Bill?"

"Oh, they don't want to go down into their clothes and put up for it."

and grace beyond praise.

After supper the men gathered round the big fire which was piled up before the long, low shed, which stood open in front. It was a scene of such wild and picturesque interest as can only be witnessed in the western ranching country.

Bill, as king of the bronco busters, moved about with the slow, careless indifference of a man sure of his position and sure of his ability to maintain it.

He spoke seldom and slowly, was not readily witted as his partner, Bill Kendall, but in act he was swift and sure, and "in trouble" he could be counted on. He was, as they said, "a white man-white to the back," which was understood to mean up the true cattle man's virtues.

"Hello, Bill!" said a friend. "Where's Bill? I ain't seen him around!"

"Well, don't jest now. He was going to bring up my pinto."

"Your pinto? What pinto's that? You ain't got no pinto."

"Mebbe not," said Bill slowly, "but I had the idee before you spoke that I had."

"That so? What'd ye git him? Good for cattle?"

The crowd began to gather. Bill grew mysterious, and even more than usually reserved.

"Good for cattle? Well, I ain't much on gaublin', but I've got a little in my pants that says that there pinto kin outwork any blanked bronco in this outfit, givin' him a fair show after the cattle."

The men became interested. "What was he raised?"

"Dunno."

"What'd ye git him? Across the line?"

"No," said Bill stoutly, "right in this here country. The Duke there knows him."

This at once raised the pinto several points. To be known, and as Bill's tone indicated, favorably known by the Duke was a testimonial to which any horse might aspire.

"What'd ye git him, Bill? Don't be so blanked oncommunicatin'!" said an impatient voice.

Bill hesitated; then, with an apparent burst of confidence, he assumed his frankest manner and voice and told his tale.

"Well," he said, taking a fresh chew and offering his plug to his neighbor, who passed it on after helping himself, "ye see, it was like this. Ye know that little Meredith gal?"

Chorus of answers: "Yes! The red headed one. I know! She's a daisy! Her 'lar blizzard! Lightnin' conductor!"

Bill paused, stiffened himself a little, dropped his frank air and drawled out in cool, hard tones: "I might remark that that young lady is, I might person to say, a friend of mine, which I'm prepared to back up in my best style, and if my blanked blanked son of a street sweeper has any remark to make, here's his time now."

In the pause that followed murmurs were heard extolling the many excellencies of the young lady in question, and Bill, appressed, yielded to the requests for the continuance of his story, and as he described Gwen and her pinto and her work on the ranch the men, many of whom had had glimpses of her, gave emphatic approval in their own way. But as he told of her rescue of Joe and of the sudden calamity that had befallen her a great stillness fell upon the simple, tender hearted fellows, and they listened with their eyes shining in the firelight with growing

TO DAM THE TENNESSEE.

BILL INTRODUCED IN CONGRESS
GIVING THE RIGHT TO A PRIVATE CORPORATION.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 5.—Congressman John A. Moon introduced in Congress a bill giving a private corporation the right to build a dam and locks on the Tennessee river at the "Suck," about twenty miles from this city, under the direction of the war department. This dam will cost $850,000, according to the plans of the government engineer and has been recommended as a part of the improvement of the river. The corporation, which is composed of wealthy men of this city, St. Louis and Chicago, only ask the right to use the overflow water from the dam to make electric power. The current of the river is very swift and confined to a narrow space at the "Suck," so that it is estimated that enough power will be supplied to give enough electricity to operate hundreds of miles of railways. If the enabling act passes the plant will be built, the city supplied and several interurban electric railways built.

WOMAN ELOPES WITH YOUTH

SHE SOLD THE FURNITURE TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR ELOPEMENT.

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Carrie E. Griffin, wife of Frank L. Griffin, former manager of the Ardmore Electric company and the Chickasaw Telephone company, and a prominent citizen of Ardmore, has eloped with Fred Cooner, a youth of 19 years.

Mrs. Griffin is a woman of 40. The woman disposed of her buggy and horse and sold much of the furniture at the home to raise the funds for elopement.

Her husband was at the train on which the couple took their departure and recovered his two children, a daughter, aged 11, and a son, aged 11, together with his wife's trunk and other baggage.

TORPEDO BOAT SAVED.

SWIMMING THROUGH A HEAVY
BOATSWAIN CARRIED A LINE FROM A TUG.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 5.—The naval tug Peoria, towing the submarine torpedo boat Adler, has arrived at the navy yard here. The Adler was saved by the heroism of Boatswain Derry, who responded to a call for volunteers and swam 100 yards with a line to the Adler from the tug and pulled a hawser after him. The Moccasin is ashore at Currituck and appears to be only slightly damaged. The Adler is leaking badly.

When Boatswain Derry responded to the call for a volunteer to swim to the Adler in a 34 mile gale, mountainous seas crashed over the Peoria, burying the drifting submarine boat beneath a ton of water.
